

Friday, 3 May 2013

Bodies of drowned Saudis recovered, others still missing

The bodies of three Saudis who drowned in their cars due to flash floods have been recovered in the city of Taif.

A search is ongoing for two missing persons in the northern Qarn valley, al-Riyadh newspaper reported Friday.

Steeply rising water levels due to torrential rain in various regions of Saudi Arabia have forced rescue teams to use boats and divers.